VALEDICTORIAN

As seniors we wonder what life after high school will bring us... college, work, marriage, children, happiness, heartbreak. But, while looking ahead to the future, we sometimes are too quick to pass over what goes on now. We think, "Wow, what great things are going to happen next year?" We seem to go on a holiday when it comes to living for the moment - giving of ourselves to each experience without wasting a lot of misguided energy on what is expected of the future.

High school is a time in everyone's life that should be filled to capacity with cherished experiences and lasting friendships. It is not only a place of knowledge where learning is dispensed to eager and not-so-eager ears. High school is also a way of life and education is an intermingling of the ideas of the past and present along with something extra. That something extra plays a part in the development of maturity in youngsters who loudly rambled through the halls in the ninth grade but purposefully journey down the aisle at graduation.

High school is a general term used to describe what should be a total living and growing experience, for every individual. But some students are slow to realize this, and before they know it, the eight semesters of quizzes, homecomings, quarterlies, dances, finals, and proms have slipped through their fingers and graduation is at hand.

Remember, though we want to prepare ourselves to the best of our ability for our future and the future of generations to come, we can't relieve the missed experiences or regain the lost time. The phrase "we may never pass this way again" is a near certainty.

Sharon Lynch

SALUTATORIAN

High School... So what exactly is it? After four years of "Good morning. Please rise for the pledge," we realize that what we have "learned" here has resulted to a large extent from encounters outside the sphere of our academic subjects. Perhaps we can sense now what Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. means when he remarks that "life is nothing but high schools." DHS is a microcosm - a miniature world. Somewhere between grasping the concepts of our courses and learning to follow the standards of the systems in which we live, we have encountered experiences which have enabled us to mature and to learn to cope with ourselves and with the world around us. It has been a crash course in learning to be ourselves - in adjusting to what is, in making mistakes, suffering the consequences and advancing in spite of them. When viewed in retrospect, high school has tried to acquaint each of us with one very important subject - ourselves. Only we can judge how well we have succeeded in that course. If we have a better knowledge of ourselves and a resolve to put that knowledge to good use, we have had a successful education.

CLASS HISTORY

The CLASS of 1974 began its freshman year with 301 eager-eyed students under the special wing of assistant principal, Mr. John J. Mancuso.

With Mr. Joseph Piwowarski as its chosen advisor, the class elected George Corso as president; Charlotte Speziale, vice president; Kevin Allstrom, treasurer; and Renee Fancher, secretary.

A memorable first homecoming gave the class of '74 their starting point in student togetherness. A ghost of Dunkirk High School “spirit” surrounded by tombstones depicting the graves of the defeated teams was the theme of their float, “D.H.S. Spirit.” Escorting through the festivities by Dennis Schwartzfager was freshman queen Paula Rossoto.

“Cupids Are Calling” gave a hearts-and-flowers theme to the February-held freshman party.

On Moving-Up Day, Louise Griff gathered the majority vote to become queen and Dennis Schwartzfager, king.

The sophomore year for the Class of '74 ushered in the reign of Cheryl Graf as president. Also new to the offices of leadership were Michele Phillips, Joan Mucha and Joe Raczek as the vice president, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Homecoming gave the “silly soph”s their second attempt at float construction. “Mighty Maroon Machine” gave the class not only a catchy title but a third place rating. Ann Klaybor and Gary Medley captured the homecoming queen and escort positions.

Again a theme of young love centered around the sophomore party, as “Traces of Love” out “drew” all other titles.

As the couple honored for Moving-Up Day, Gretchen Bennice and John Reed were victorious in the sophomore king and queen race.

Sheryl Graf remained at the top during the junior year for the '74 Marauders while the vice president's job was won by Jerry Moreland; the treasurer, Kathy Bernstein, and again at secretary, Joan Mucha.

Capturing first place for Spirit Week competition, the Class of '74 used the theme, “Fredonia Will Be ‘Hours’ Again”. A huge hourglass and a student-written theme were the main ingredients behind the victory. Also, Stu Marvin accompanied junior queen, Carol Boorady, for the Pep Rally activities.

Starting the senior and final year at D.H.S., Sheryl Graf continued in her reign as president while John Reed was vice president; Gretchen Bennice, recording secretary; Chris Van Wey, corresponding secretary, and Kathy Bernstein, treasurer. Also, in Student Council, the newly elected officers included Jerry Moreland at president and Mark Cerst as vice president. And, joining Mr. Piwowarski in his advising role this year was Mr. Richard Dudzic.

The downing of the “Titanic” sparked the senior float idea, “SINK SOUTHWESTERN”, showing the S.S. Southwestern going down for the third time under a huge Marauder Wave. This prize winning (first) float was accompanied by a homecoming queen of the same quality as Kathy Bernstein, escorted by George Corso, was selected by the student body for the coveted crown. In her court were: Ann Krebs and Felix Rosario, Patty White and Jerry Moreland; and honorary queen Julie Potter and escort John Reed.

“Two one-act plays with nothing in common” was the billing given the senior play production of “I Never Saw Another Butterfly” and “Crawling Arnold”. Under Mr. Hayes, who replaced the ailing Mr. Bernet, Carol Gula of “Butterfly” (the story of a girl in a concentration camp) and John Reed and Renee Fancher of “Arnold” (the story of a man who wouldn’t stop crawling), were the leads in the Class of ’74 presentations.

The Winter Ball closed out the activities for the seniors. A theme of snow, mountains, skiing and fireplaces, “Chalet Holiday” warmed many a cold nose.

A rookie teacher (Gretchen Bennice) and an unruly student (Jerry Moreland) were the leading characters behind the junior class play success, “Up the Down Staircase”. Directed by Mr. E.J. Hayes, Jr., assisted by Denise Felt, Cindy Gould, Debbie Halas, and Sharon Lynch, the cast consisted of over thirty juniors in classroom settings.

In making the final move from juniors to seniors on Moving-Up Day, Chris Van Wey and Dave Granata were paired as the king and queen.

June brought on the Spring Prom for the Class of '74, who ably took to the task. Using a merry-go-round, balloon man, and a carnival atmosphere for “Love Makes the World Go Round”.

On December twelfth and thirteenth, the Senior Class presented two one-act plays, "I Never Saw Another Butterfly", a drama by Celeste Raspaniti, and "Crawling Arnold", a comedy by Jules Feiffer.

"I Never Saw Another Butterfly" takes place at Terezien Concentration Camp, where children are en route to the gas chambers of Auschwitz. The play centers on Raja Englanderova (Carol Gula) a young girl who undergoes the ordeal of Terezien. Although her life in the camp is stifling and destructive, she experiences growth through human interaction. She falls in love with a fellow prisoner (Joe Raczek) and develops great esteem for a former school teacher (Sharon Lynch).

This play was produced under the direction of Mr. E. J. Hayes, Jr. with the help of student director Jerry Moreland.
"Crawling Arnold" dramatized the emotional but humorous plight of a 35-year-old man experiencing an acute case of sibling rivalry towards his 18-month-old brother. John Reed portrayed the title character, Arnold Enterprise, and John Houser and Kathy Bernstein were cast as Arnold's ultra-left-wing parents. Renee Fancher carried out the role of a social worker who tries to help Arnold with his hang-ups. Jerry Moreland (who co-directed with Debi Kaymore) appeared as a butler with anti-white imperialistic tendencies.

The names of all the students involved in the plays, both on and off stage, are too numerous to mention. However, they all contributed greatly with their time and efforts to make the double-bill a success.

Part of a song that was very popular this year goes: "Memories... light the corners of my mind..." For each of us, the years we have spent at DHS have filled the corners of our minds with memories. To be sure, these corners hold remembrances of the sad as well as the happy times we had here. The yearbook staff has tried to shine a light in these corners, so that, years from now, you can rummage there and recapture days that can not be replaced. The hope that this book will supply that light has made the many hours put into it well worthwhile.

IN MEMORIAM

The untimely passing on September 30, 1973 of Mrs. Marguerite Belden shocked and saddened the faculty and student body of Dunkirk High School.

A native of Dunkirk and graduate of the Dunkirk public schools and the Fredonia State University system, Mrs. Belden distinguished herself as an outstanding educator and a staunch advocate of teacher welfare. She taught in West Spring Creek, Pennsylvania and began her teaching career in the Dunkirk School District in 1954. Over the years she devoted much time to our student organizations, serving as adviser to the Honor Society, A.F.S., Drug Council and other activities.

Notable leadership was also given to her colleagues through the professional organizations in which she held office. She served the Dunkirk 'Teachers' Association in a wide variety of roles including president and chief negotiator. In 1971, she was elected to the Board of Directors of the New York State United Teachers and won the respect and admiration of educators across the State.

In addition to her family and her career, she always found time to meet civic responsibilities. She was especially proud of the hundreds of hours she donated to Brooks Hospital during World War Two serving as a volunteer Red Cross nurse’s aide. She also participated in several fund raising drives to help those in need.

Mrs. Belden has left a rich legacy for which we are most grateful and in which we can take great pride. Her colleagues and associates have established a fitting memorial to this great teacher - a perpetual scholarship to recognize each year a deserving Dunkirk High School senior who intends to pursue a career in teaching.

"Consider that I laboured not for myself only, but for all them that seek learning."

To all underclassmen, good luck in your remaining years at D.H.S.

It's too late. V.F.

Hi, Mr. Mancuso from Tex.

Rose N. Joan. V.F. (Crash) strikes again '74

Oh, I know!

Blah, Blah, Blah...

Jen

Give me an 'M-O-N-O' (we luv you, Debi)

Listen... so it goes.

Mr. Will: For homework do 1, 3, 5, 7, 9

Student: You mean 1-9 odd.

Mr. Will: No, 1, 3, 5... Boga.

He Hermanita: Pedro! To my little friend! I will meet you at the club from Ronald D. & A.B.

Short people are short!!
